SERVIZIO CIVILE NAZIONALE

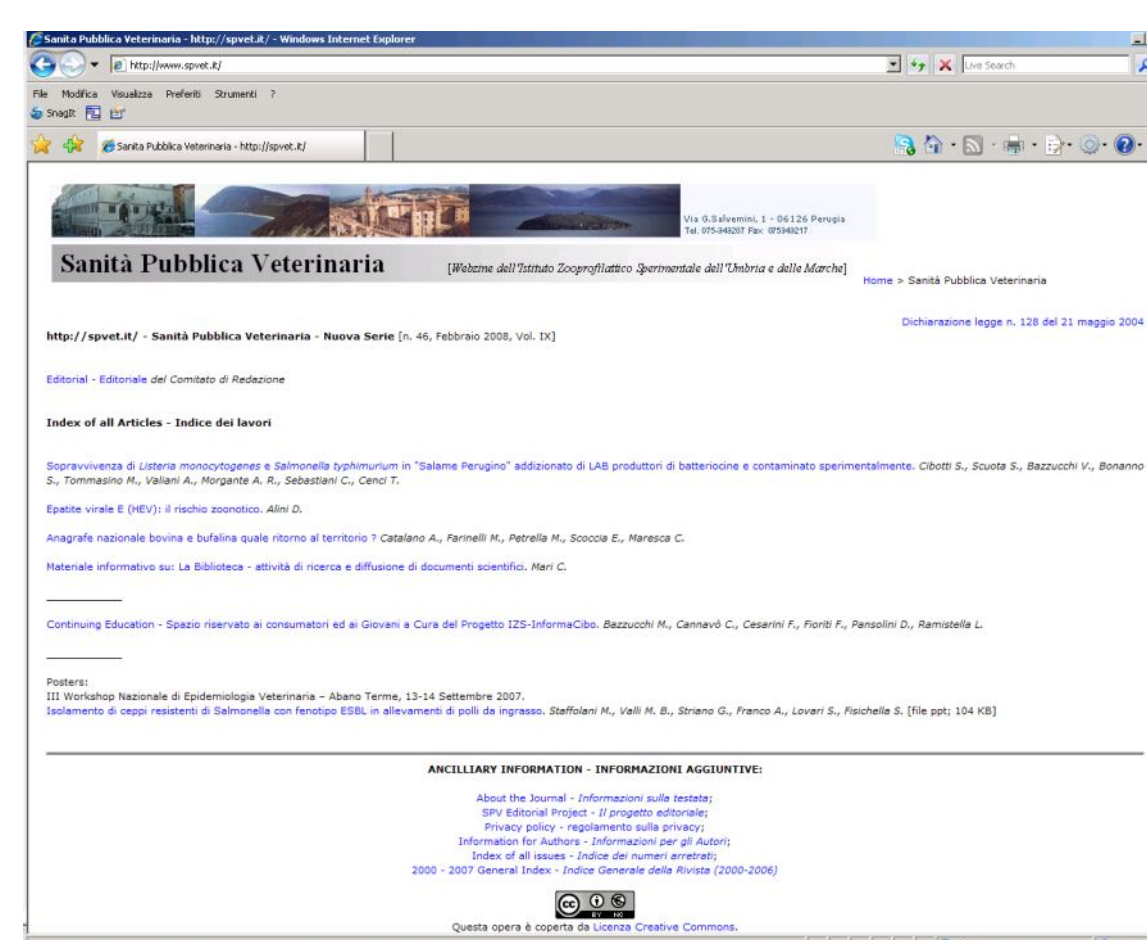

This work outlines the importante and contribution of civil volunteers (a group of young people with an appropriate background selected for an one-year stage to fulfill the needs of the Institute Scientific Library) finto a bibliographical and informative participatory project of the "Zooprofilattico Sperimentale of Umbria and Marche" Institute (Italy).

VOLUNTEERS FOR A PARTICIPATORY LIBRARY PROJECT

Thanks to the participatory approach sustained by volunteer's work, activities devoted to improve the information needs of researchers and health operatore have been strongly promoted.

In this project volunteers act as a "glue" linking librarian staff with library users, researchers, health practitioners, in order to allow their access to a new informative set of library services, which transform the library space into a true participatory scientific and informative tool.
